

10

provinces have health privacy laws which include offence provisions.

4

provinces have successfully prosecuted individuals under health privacy laws.

$5,000 is the largest penalty imposed in Newfoundland and Labrador for a health privacy legislation offence.

3

offences have been prosecuted in Newfoundland and Labrador under the Personal Health Information Act.

$25,000 is the largest penalty imposed in Canada (Ontario) for a health privacy legislation offence.

You Can't Uncrack an Egg.

OFFICE OF THE INFORMATION AND PRIVACY COMMISSIONER
NEWFOUNDLAND AND LABRADOR

DATA PRIVACY DAY

Data Privacy Day 2019

January 28, 2019

Data Privacy Day is an internationally recognized day dedicated to creating awareness about the importance of privacy and protecting personal information.

PrivacyAware